The industry meets at ANGA COM – all the more since CEBIT no longer exists. I appreciate the top-class panels, which enable relevant exchange, contribute to the formation of opinion in the audience and give important impulses for progress on the most urgent topics of the industry.

Dr. Hannes Ametsreiter

CEO
Vodafone Deutschland

With its extraordinarily broad and colourful conference programme, ANGA COM offers the ideal platform for an exciting, constructive exchange on competition, trends, innovation and the future of the telecommunications and media industry.

Martin Witt

Management Board, 1&1 Drillisch
Chairman of the Board, 1&1 Telecommunication

On and off the stage, ANGA COM provides a good setting to meet with prospects and industry leaders. It provides the exhibition and audience to showcase our TV App Store solutions and get feedback from industry leaders. It's a pleasure to come to Cologne and an honour to share the podium with market experts.

Jeroen Ghijsen

CEO
Metrological

At a top-class event like ANGA COM, it quickly becomes clear how our industry is ticking, which topics it deals with and how companies in this environment react to them – the controversial exchange is always inspiring.

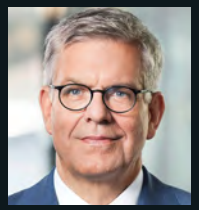
The intelligent, digital networking of content and distribution is a major issue for us at ZDF. ANGA COM offers an intelligent network. In the classic sense: you meet people – makers, experts, entrepreneurs – and discuss the opportunities, risks and feasibility of new technologies.



Dr. Thomas Bellut

Chairman
ZDF

ANGA COM, both as an exhibition and with its conference programme, offers an excellent forum for sustainable and future-oriented discussions between experts and managers from the fields of broadband, television, streaming and production.

Dr. Christian Franckenstein

CEO
