Cologne/Germany, 22 May 2023 | Tomorrow, Tuesday, ANGA COM 2023 will start in top form. Europe's largest exhibition and conference for broadband and media distribution will take place on the Cologne fairgrounds until Thursday. Compared to 2022, the number of exhibitors has grown from 390 to more than 470 companies from 35 countries, the booked exhibition space by 30 percent. This is also significantly more than before the pandemic. Exhibitor list and floor plans are available online.

The conference programme kicks-off with the high-ranking Digitalization Summit with the CEOs and Board Members of leading network operators like Vodafone and Telekom Deutschland. The Media Summit is equally well-staffed with market leaders in TV and streaming. On the second day of the show, Wednesday, there will be four summit discussions with a top line-up: the Gigabit Summit, the Content Summit, the International FTTH Summit and the Sustainability Summit.

In addition to the International FTTH Summit, there will be two other completely new conference formats: The Innovation Stage in hall 7 with free access also for exhibition visitors without an additional conference ticket offers over 30 speaker slots on video, streaming and connectivity in English. The third new format is the Theme Day Fiber & Municipalities on 25 May 2023, when participation in the exhibition and conference programme is completely free of charge.

In total, ANGA COM offers 61 panels, more than 240 speakers and over 3,500 minutes of content with its strategy programme, the technology programme and the new Innovation Stage. More than 90 speaker slots will be held in English. The speaker list is available here.

In addition to the programme, this year there will be many side events by the exhibitors and stand parties in the exhibition halls, some of which even last until 21.00 CET for the first time. All events are listed on the website. During the day, the open air plaza with food trucks offers optimal networking opportunities.

Registration for conference and exhibition visitors is still possible online; there will be no ticket sales on-site. Tickets for the exhibition including access to the Innovation Stage are available for 25.- Euros. Participation in the regular conference programme can be booked from 130.- Euros. On 25 May 2023, the Theme Day Fiber & Municipalities, participation in the exhibition and conference programme is completely free of charge. Those who already have a regular exhibition or conference ticket do not need to register separately for this day.

All information on the event is available online at www.angacom.de. Further details and numerous customer reviews from the broadband and media industry can be found in the fact sheet. The ANGA COM event app with exhibitor and product list, interactive floor plan, conference agenda and networking tool is available free of charge for iOS and Android.
