Cologne/Germany, 18 January 2024 | Four months before its start, ANGA COM, Europe's leading Exhibition and Conference for Broadband, Television & Online, has already exceeded the threshold of 400 exhibitors from 35 countries. The date is 14 to 16 May 2024 in Cologne/Germany. At ANGA COM, network operators, vendors and content providers will meet in Europe's largest metropolitan region for broadband and media. The ticket shop for conference and exhibition visitors is now open on the website www.angacom.de.

Key topics in 2024 include: fiber optics, media distribution, connectivity and the potential of artificial intelligence in these three areas. This year, ANGA COM offers a particularly large number of innovations in terms of content and organization:

- Strategy programme: Expansion of cooperations with international associations and partners, in particular with reports on the Europe-wide FTTH roll-out and media topics; new topic area financing and investors.
- Technology programme: The programme section technology will be completely revised, streamlined and the practical relevance further expanded.
- Free of charge exhibition and conference day: On Thursday, 16 May 2024, attendance at ANGA COM, including the entire conference programme, is completely free of charge. On this day, the focus will be on the topics in-house networks, open access, civil engineering and municipalities, which are particularly important for the fiber optic roll-out.
- Innovation Stage: Following the successful premiere in 2023, there will once again be a modern presentation stage directly in the exhibition hall. Here, the topics media distribution, streaming, OTT and connectivity will be expanded once again.
- Ticketing: The ticketing system newly introduced in 2023 will be expanded; it includes a new networking feature for LinkedIn and offers a discounted ticket for young professionals.

The following speakers, among others, have already confirmed their participation in the conference programme with more than 50 strategy and technology panels:

- Dr. Kerstin Baumgart, Director Wholesale & Member of the Board, Telekom Deutschland

A preliminary list of speakers is available here on the ANGA COM website. The complete conference programme will be published in March.

Dr. Peter Charissé, CEO ANGA COM: “We are particularly pleased about the increased demand of new exhibitors and operators of fiber optic networks. The Cologne area is and remains the heart of the telecommunications and media industry; there is no other place in Germany and Europe where so many market leaders have such short distances. The market significance of ANGA COM is also reflected in the list of speakers already confirmed for the conference programme at this early stage. Cologne is the only place where the entire top league meets.”

Registration for conference and exhibition visitors is possible online; there will be no ticket sales on-site. Tickets for the exhibition are available for 25.- Euros. Participation in the regular conference programme is possible from 140.- Euros, for young professionals (people under 30 years) for not more than 40.- Euros. On the third day, Thursday, 16 May 2024, participation in the exhibition and conference programme is completely free of charge.
