Cologne/Germany, 21 January 2020 | Europe's leading Exhibition and Conference for Broadband, Television and Online brings together network operators, vendors and content providers on all issues of the broadband and media distribution. The next ANGA COM will take place from 12 to 14 May 2020 in Cologne/Germany.

Four months in advance, ANGA COM 2020 is once again showing an excellent booking situation. Registrations have already been received for 90 percent of the exhibition space of the previous year. Secure your stand now: With different booking options, ANGA COM offers the right opportunity for every company to be there. In addition, there are numerous sponsoring and advertising possibilities for exhibitors and other interested companies. More information can be found in our sponsoring booklet. You can find the space, stand and meeting offers for ANGA COM 2020 here on our website.

This year, ANGA COM will create a new area focusing on Streaming and AppTV in the exhibition hall. Within its core areas of broadband and audio-visual media, ANGA COM will thus further enhance new TV topics. The Streaming and AppTV Hub in hall 8 includes a new presentation area directly in the exhibition hall, the Innovation Stage. For this new conference format, applications for keynotes on innovative topics in the fields of Streaming, AppTV and OTT can be submitted via a web form until 31 January 2020.

For ANGA COM 2020, the following top speakers have already confirmed their participation in the conference programme:

On Thursday, 14 May 2020, ANGA The Broadband Association, the Federal Broadband Bureau and the VATM Association of Telecommunications and Value-Added Service Providers will host a joint Theme Day Fiber Networks as part of ANGA COM. The Theme Day Fiber Networks follows the previous Broadband Day, which has already been successfully organized twice. The conference panels will address business, regulatory and technical topics of the network roll-out in a practical way. This includes panels on new cooperation models, broadband subsidies, smart city and the regulation of fiber networks. The Theme Day Fiber Networks offers free access for all visitors upon prior online registration.

The visitor registration for conference and exhibition as well as for the evening event ANGA COM Night in the "Rheinterrassen" on 12 May 2020 is possible online. An admission ticket to the exhibition costs 22.- Euros for three days upon prior online registration (ticket office on-site: 35.- Euros), conference season tickets start at 100.- Euros.

ANGA COM is Europe's leading Exhibition and Conference for Broadband, Television and Online. Key topics are Gigabit Networks, FTTH, 5G, Wifi, Fixed Mobile Convergence, OTT, AppTV, Cloud TV, Video Streaming, Smart City and Smart Home.

In 2019, ANGA COM set an outstanding record with more than 20,000 participants and over 500 exhibitors. Amongst the participants from a total of 83 countries were 540 network and platform operators serving more than 200 million households all over Europe, as well as 370 media companies. 44 percent of the participants belonged to the senior level.

With Vodafone, Deutsche Telekom, RTL and a large number of local fiber network operators, the Cologne area is Europe's leading business hub for broadband and media. About 40 million people live within a radius of only 250 kilometers. Three international airports (Cologne, Dusseldorf, Frankfurt) can be reached in less than one hour. These are unique conditions to showcase our industry to Europe and beyond.
