Cologne/Germany, 31 May 2021 | ANGA COM DIGITAL, a new virtual event format of ANGA COM – Exhibition and Conference for Broadband, Television & Online, strengthens fiber optic topics within its conference programme. 20 panels of in total 45 panels on broadband and media topics have a focus on optical networks. A total of 180 speakers are active in the conference programme.

The strategy panels focusing on fiber topics deal with roll-out concepts, marketing, services, content and law. In the technology programme, the digital partners of ANGA COM DIGITAL will present new developments for optical networks in a total of 13 panels. Amongst the speakers are the platinum partners Ocilion IPTV Technologies and Vodafone as well as the gold partners Appear, AVM, AXING, braun teleCom, Cisco, CommScope, gabo Systemtechnik, Harmonic, HUBER+SUHNER, Teleste and Zattoo.

The complete conference programme is available on the website www.angacom.de in the section "ANGA COM DIGITAL > Agenda".

Dr Peter Charissé, Managing Director of ANGA COM: "Our online congress equally addresses all categories of network operators and network technologies, from local city carriers to international telcos, from HFC to FTTH. What all technologies have in common is that the fiber roll-out is continuing to pick up speed. Therefore, we have decided to cover a particularly wide range of fiber optic topics. ANGA COM DIGITAL will bring you up to date in all matters of broadband and media technology."

ANGA COM DIGITAL will take place on a new, AI-powered digital event platform from 8 to 10 June 2021. 80 leading companies in the broadband and media industry participate as digital partners. Registration is free of charge for congress participants and available at www.angacom.de.

It is still possible to book a digital partnership with a digital showroom. All necessary documents as well as a walkthrough of the event platform are available online at www.angacom.de. The companies already registered are listed on the website www.angacom.de in the section "ANGA COM DIGITAL > Digital Partners".
